"I hope to get plans completed and money appropriated for construction of a series of dams up the Nueces river," he said.

"We need dams to catch the runoff of the Nueces watershed and thus secure an adequate water supply for that part of South Texas.

How can you put two kinds of dressing in one turkey?—If the members of your family have strong individual preferences for wet or dry, swet or not-at-all-sweet dressing, you can make everybody happy by preparing one kind of stuffing for the body, another for the neck.

Why is trussing recommended?—Because binding the legs and wings to the body improves the turkey's appearance. helps the bird to roast evenly, and makes carving easier. First step in trussing is to lift the wings up and out, forcing the tips back until they rest flat against he neck skin.—Second is to tie the legs together and then pull down the tail until the leg ends are right above it; now tie the legs close against the tail. After one hour of roasting the leg trussings should be cut, releasing the leg ends from the tail.

How do you use skewers?—To fasten the neck skin.—after it has been filled with dressing—to the back. Also to close the abdominal opening so the dressing won't fall out by lacing it together with light cord and a few small skewers.

What are the advantages of a roasting rack?—Either a flat or a v-shaped rack raises the bird so that heat can circulate freely around and cook and brown it evenly. Roast the bird breast-down except for the last quarter of cooking, when he breast may be turned uppermost to insure total browning.

NATION TODAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(P)—A friend said "I want to say something I wish you'd write." So he told me. And this is it.
I'm writing it because it affects old me. And this is it.

I'm writing it because it affects all of us in one way or another.
He said all that follows:
I know people who look up the stockmarket page every day to see how they're doing because they have ten shares of something.
But they don't vote. They don't have enough interest in their government to vote.
Lives, Future Invested.
Yet they have their lives and their future invested in the government, a far bigger investment than they have in stocks and bonds.
People in this country scream
that they don't want any interference with their rights, like freedom.
But they can keep those rights once with their rights, like freedom.

But they can keep those rights only so long as this Democracy, which guarantees the rights, works.

Since we are all citizens enjoying those rights, then it is our duty as citizens to see that this Democracy works at its best.

And it works best when everyone does his duty as a citizen by voting.

About Half Vote.

Ing. About Half Vote.

The last election shows pretty well what I mean. Only about 47,000,000 out of 94,000,000 people of voting age had enough interest to vote.

So one-half the people of voting age left it up to the other half to make the decision for all and do the duty all should have carried out.

out.

If congress or the President makes a bad mistake which could ruin this country, in foreign affairs or something at home, then

Congress in desperation might think it necessary to curb some of unink it necessary to curb some of our freedoms or wipe them out. Could Lose Democracy. If that happened we no longer would have the same Democracy we had before. Once the change started, no one could say where it would stop.

started, no one could say where it would stop.
Sure, the same thing might happen even if all the people of voting age voted. A full vote is no absolute guarantee against mistakes.
But if Democracy broke down after a full vote of the people, then it would be a failure of a Democracy which had had a full chance to work.

It wouldn't be a failure because to work.

It wouldn't be a failure because half the people, failing to appreciate what they had, left it up to the other half to make the decisions for them.

DEATH IN THE AIR

The deadly smog which caused a score of deaths in Donora, Pa., was a local condition, the rarity of which is attested by the wide attention attracted by the series of deaths. But it is possible that such occurrences may become less rare as a result of the present general trend of industrial development.

Smog is a term lately added to the American language, denoting a mixture of smoke and fog. The feeling of depression which accompanies it is not altogether mental, for smog reduces the supply of oxygen available for the lungs. The smoke which combines with fog to make smog may sometimes contain harmful fumes, which add to the bad effects. LIFTING LIFE'S LEVELS BY PRACTICE OF OLD VIRTUES

In Perplexing and Ominous Times, MenTake Rancher Given Refuge in the Great Simplicities—Nature's God is the Bible's God—Thanksgiving Season Designed to Refresh Our Hearts

Dr. Henry Van Dyke used to tell of finding one of his guides, during a wilderness trip, on the top of a moustain at the close of a hard day. The man had spent long hours in weary labor, and why he should cap it all with this ardous climb caused his employer to ask, "Henri, why did you climb away up there?"

for the great occasion when King David brought back to Jerusalem the Ark of God, which for years had been housed in a private dwelling, and sung antiphonally by joy-ful multitudes as the sacred object was solemnly carried into the city, this psalm has come down to us to refresh us in seasons of thanksgiving and point us to true ideals of worship.

In many present hours when we are in no mood to work because of a feeling of the futility of life in a world lived beneath the Damoclean sword of war and threatened by the possible collapse of our economic ways of life, it is refreshing to muse upon the changeless march of nature amid all human vicissitudes, to look upon the sky, the green fields, the woods, the waters and to realize that God has not gone out of business, despite all of man's waywardness and folly.

Bank To Exhibit

Paul Revere's Commission

As Official Messenger

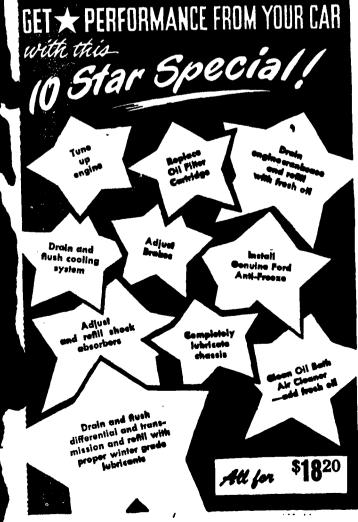

The First National Bank announced that starting today it will exhibit for the next week an enlarged reproduction of Paul Revere's certification as an official messenger of the committee of safety. This is one of the most interesting documents now carried on the Freedom Train, and is one of 26 reproductions of Americans being brought to this community as a public service by the First National Bank.

It was General Joseph Warren, an intense patriot, who sent for Paul Revere and begged him to set off at once for Lexington to alert John Hancock and Samuel Adams to the fact that the British troops were on the march to seize them and to destroy the military stores at Concord. This "thriller" has a surprise ending which is outlined in the historical background which accompanies the reproduction of the document on display in the bank lobby.

WE ARE NOW EXHIBITING THE SERIES OF 26 FREEDOM TRAIN DOCUMENTS (ONE EACH WEEK-END). YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO INSPECT THESE.

Less Support Due On Several Farm Products In '49

committee when congress meets in January. Texas Pairolman Shows Shooting Tricks To Rotary Sgt. Don Lawrence of the Texas

Highway Patrol produced a pistol Wednesday and made it do everything except cook him a dinner.

The dinner wasn't really necessary. The Rotary Club furnished that.

that.

The sergeant, had he said anything, would have been the principal speaker. He said but two words—"Bit nervous,"—when a shot shattered a watch that supposedly belonged to Bill Banks.

Sgt. Lawrence was one of five guests from the trim patrol. The others were Chief W. J. Eiliott of Austin, head of the entire depart-Austin, head of the entire department, and Capt. George W. Busy of Dallas, head of that area, and the two Corsicana members, H. E.

Tucker and Byron Currin.

After that Sgt. Lawrence's pistol did the talking.
Holder of five world's records, and a man who has held 12, Sgt. Lawrence was introduced as one of 166 men in the world who can do with a pistol what he did on the mezzanine floor of the Navarro Hotel during the luncheon.
He performed 15 feats.
He used on the last one a 45 automatic service pistol. With it he smashed two targets about the size of a half dollar. The rest of the time he used target pistols of .22, .32 and .38 caliber.
One Trick Enough
One of them was enough to establish him. He placed a Boy Scout hand axe between two clay pigeons, the blade facing the sergeant. The idea was to hit the blade with the hullet, split it and break the two tarkets. Using a 38 piece he did it on the first.

HOMECOMING QUEEN—Mrs K. W. Sneed was named queen of the fourth annual Wortham High School Ex-Students Association Friday, November 12. She was presented during the half intermission Friday night at the annual Wortham-Fairfield football game with her son, Dr. Wm. R. Sneed, Corsicana, as escort. The election came by secret ballot at the afternoon session of the association. Tom Wallace, an ex-student of Wortham, directed the Allen Academy band from Bryan, official band for the homecoming. The sergeant lined up a string of macaroni and cut them all at the base. His next shot was reduced to lined up spaghetti. He mowed them down with one shot. He next used a thread with a lead shot on the end. He cut the thread. The paper card trick was the finale in that division.

Gamut of Guns

The veteran with the pistol ran the gamut of the guns. He extinguished the blaze of two candles with two shots. He used a pendelum clay pigeon set up, getting both the swinging one and the one centered on the bullet trap as they were in simultaneous alignment with his sights. He blocked his sights and scored. He used a mirror and hit the targets. He turned a .22 target pistol upside down and used his little finger for trigger purposes, and got his target.

A purchase agreement program to encourage production of more winter cover crop seed has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

George W. Ward, chairman of the Navarro County Agricultural Conservation committee, reported Wednesday that the 1948 production of cover crop seeds is one fourth smaller than last year.

Crops of heiry, common and Williamette vetches, Austrian winter peas, common ryegrass and ter peas, common ryerrass and blue lupine are all below last year, he said.

The crimson clover seed crop is ger for trigger purposes, and got his target.

The exhibition was narrated by Capt. Busby. A. G. Elliott was in charge of the program.

Ted Graham, Bethlehem Supply Co., was introduced as a new member.

Guests included Burney Moore of Purdon, Mitchell Boyd, Butch Banks, Dr. C. B. Bronson, Jack Anderson of Dallas, Rev. Carrol Thompson of Kerens, Drew Gillen of Blooming Grove.

Ayala's Motion Denied.

The crimson clover seed crop is 7 per cent larger. Because of the shortage, it is expected that the entire carryover of common rye-grass and blue lupine from past crops will be used up this fall.

The chairman explained that the 1949 program was announced this fall so that seed producers will know that support prices will be available on cover crop seeds.

The seed grower is assured of receiving either 90 per cent of parity or a fixed price, whichever is lower, Ward said.

The fixed prices are 3 1-2 cents lower, Ward said.

The fixed prices are 3 1-2 cents a pound for blue lupine; 4 1-2 cents for Austrian winter peas; 6 1-2 cents or common ryegrass; 6 1-2 cents for common and Williamette vetch; and 14 cents for hairy vetch and crimson clover.

Purchase agreements will be available to growers from the time of harvest next year through Feb. 29, 1950, it was announced.
